

Dear MCM/ICM Teams,

COMAP has created a feedback pilot program. In this initial effort, approximately 30% of teams will receive individualized comments. These reports were prepared as part of a new initiative to deliver direct feedback from judges to participating teams.

The feedback includes strengths identified by the judges, areas for improvement, and in some cases, direct written comments from the judges themselves. We hope this report helps teams reflect on their modeling work, better understand their performance, and continue to grow as critical thinkers and problem solvers.

The feedback reports will be available online after the contest results are announced on May 8, 2026, and can be found by logging into your advisor account. Once logged in you will see your list of your team numbers. On the bottom of the advisor team information page between Solution Received and Final Designation you will see Feedback. Under feedback you will see (unavailable) – No feedback is available for this team.

Available – Feedback is available for this team click the link to download your file.

Thank you once again for your invaluable support and guidance. We look forward to seeing your team's continued growth in mathematical modeling.

Sincerely,
COMAP
